For City Intelligence see next Page.

THE NAVY—HOME SQUADRON, &c.—We hear with much pleasure of the Navy to the Government ships preparing at this port for service on the Coast. The steamer Missouri, pronounced to be superior to any other ship afloat, has been placed under the command of Capt. NEWTON, a most accomplished officer, and eminently qualified for the duties of this particular service—having been transferred from the steamer Fulton. The command of this vessel has been assigned to Capt. COOPER, an officer in every respect worthy of the station; we are sure that this appointment will give general satisfaction and subserve the best interests of the Government. We also understand that Capt. GALLAGHER has been appointed Flag-Captain of the "Home Squadron," and that he has taken possession of the "Independence" and hoisted the broad pennant of Commodore Stewart. In all these selections for important posts the Secretary has been most fortunate, and has given great satisfaction to the whole Service, as the gentlemen named are officers of the highest character and ability.

Although these ships are to compose part of the Home Squadron, we must still continue to regard them as the defenders of our Harbor: with such vessels as these, added to the Land defence, we should feel strong and abundantly secure. Our Navy Yard at present affords a busy, bustling scene; and we are particularly struck with the well-organized arrangements for the despatch of public business under its accomplished and scientific Commander, Commodore PERCY. In the selection of this officer, likewise, the Department has been most happy: few men in the Service, and fewer still out of it, are so well qualified for the station. While he most rigidly performs his duty, he is at the same time, in connection with the highest administration of his urbane and manly demeanor.

MORE FACTION.—The Loco Focos in the Tennessee Senate deem no shift too low and no trick which cowardly malice can suggest too base for their adoption, if it will only enable them to prevent the election of a Whig Senator. On the 29th the resolutions of Mr. Turner were called up by him and he moved to fill the blank with the 3d of December as the day of election, which was agreed to. When the question on the final passage of the resolutions came up, twenty-four Senators were present. Twelve Senators voted in the affirmative and the others (Locos of course) refused to vote at all. The Chairman declared the resolutions adopted, as a quorum was present. An appeal was taken on the ground that a quorum had not voted, and before the debate was concluded the Senate adjourned.

By EXCLUSIVE EXPRESS.—It is becoming so common for certain papers to boast of the receipt of particular intelligence by an "exclusive" run expressly for their own benefit, that it is necessary to reveal the way in which it was done. It will be recollected that a great deal was made upon the receipt in this city of the Acadia's news by two of our journals, inasmuch as no other paper received the advices, one of them placarding the streets with announcements that the news was received by special and exclusive express. Now, the facts are these: The Acadia arrived at Boston at half past three o'clock, the cars leaving at four; in coming to her wharf she struck her bow against the dock and immediately reversed her wheels, put out again into the bay and did not reach her berth until past four. But two persons, belonging to the offices of the Atlas and Times, jumped on board at the moment the ship struck the wharf, obtained their packages and threw them into the water, whence they were taken and put into a gig and taken to the depot. "Thus," says the Commercial, from which we gather the facts stated above, "the gig was the 'Special Express,' and its tremendous run was from Long Wharf to the depot—about one mile!"

HON. DAVID LEVY.—Testimony has been taken before a Commissioner at St. Augustine to ascertain whether David Levy, Delegate from Florida to Congress, be an alien or not. The News says that it was conclusively shown that he is not a citizen, either by birth or by naturalization. The testimony will probably be laid before the House.

ALABAMA.—The Tuscaloosa Flag of the Union of the 24th ult. says that ARTHUR P. BAGBY was elected on that day to fill the vacancy in the United States Senate caused by the resignation of Hon. C. C. CLAY.

JARED SPARKS delivers the sixth Lecture of his course at the Tabernacle this evening. His subject is the Treaty of Alliance with France at the close of the Revolution.

The London correspondent of the Boston Post says that Hon. EDWARD EVERETT, our Representative at the Court of St. James, had arrived in London.

OUTRAGE IN BOSTON.—The house of Henry Loring, in Boston, was attacked by some scoundrels on Wednesday night, and glass bottles filled with filth were thrown into the lower room, breaking windows and covering the furniture with the contents. The attack, it was thought, was intended for the house of Mr. Gibbs, Deputy Marshal, and is supposed to be connected with the grog-shop question.

The Army and Navy Chronicle states that the Frigate St. Lawrence at Norfolk, Virginia, at Philadelphia, Cumberland at Boston, and Savannah at New York, are to be launched forthwith. A ship of war is to be built at Portsmouth, N. H., and a small vessel (whether brig or schooner rigged, not yet determined) is also to be built at Boston, New York and Norfolk.

Another section of the Long Island Railroad road was opened yesterday, for travel and freight, to the Babylon station, near the village of Commack, Islip, and Babylon.

MORALS OF HOAXING.—Unable, we presume, to amuse themselves in any more innocent and sensible manner, there are sundry characters among us, who busy themselves in manufacturing the most astonishing news their imaginations can conceive and sending it post-haste to the Editor of some newspaper—generally selecting the least respectable—in hopes to see it fly through the land, carrying wonder or terror, they care not which, in its train. To this class belongs the fabrication of the N. E. Boundary News, which, but for its exceeding stupidity and the legitimate falsehood it bore upon its face, would have carried alarm and consternation throughout the country. The Boston Mail, which was made the instrument of first spreading this contemptible lie, says:

"The New-York Tribune calls it a 'most absurd and wicked fabrication.' It may indeed have been absurd; but we do not find any thing particularly wicked about it, beyond that which attaches to any other fiction. The author, whoever he is, probably got it up for mere sport or pastime; and though we happened to be the more immediate object of his pranks, we do not perceive that it could help the matter by getting angry about it."

The Mail here plainly declares that there is no difference in point of morality between deliberately forging a falsehood, which may cause injury, and spreading it far and wide, and scribbling a fictitious tale which does not purport to be true, and to which no one can for a moment attach any importance. If this is the principle upon which the Mail makes up its news we shall hereafter know how much dependence to place upon its statements. A pleasant and right commendable fiction, indeed, it is—that a pitched battle has taken place between the standing armies of two great nations at peace with each other—that some thirty or forty men have been killed, and that this is but the first step to general war between them. Had this alarming tale been fully credited, as its author intended it should be, does the Mail suppose it would have been without effect upon the business, and the happiness of the nation? And can it see nothing 'wicked' in this utter disregard of historical truth and in this complete indifference to the welfare of the country? If Mr. Joseph Fairbanks, or any other common liar, had told this alarming story vice versa to the Editor of the Mail, insisting soberly upon its truth, he would undoubtedly have pronounced him a base wretch, and might have thought it worth his while to get angry about it: but when he sits down deliberately, concocts carefully his lie, and through the columns of the newspapers, gives it currency—there is no special harm done; it is nothing but a hoax and is rather deserving of praise as a mark of ingenuity, than censure as an act of black and wilful falsehood.

We are having by far too much of this late. This same pleasant 'hoaxing' is sinking and degrading the character of the newspaper press as a faithful herald of a busy world. These journals have already become almost the poorest authority that can be cited for the truth or falsehood of any statement; and, if the newspaper morals of the Mail are to prevail, they will soon deserve all the contempt and distrust the judicious are disposed to bestow upon them.

PUTATIVE DEFRAUDER ARRESTED.—On Wednesday forenoon a well dressed man was seen to pass the Police Office corner of Third street and the Bowery, much intoxicated, and under the direction of Justice Taylor, he was brought in by Mr. Bird the keeper. The man then gave the name of Ralph Thompson, and on searching his pockets a small gold watch, a ring, and a valuable gold watch, and he was locked up. Justice Taylor then proceeded to Wall street and there ascertained that Mr. Ralph Thompson, then in prison, was a partner of Mr. George F. Cook, as brokers, the former conducting the business in Boston, and the latter in Wall street in this City—and that they were charged with having defrauded the Eagle Bank of Boston by a collusion with the Teller, by means of checks marked 'good,' of upwards of $50,000. Justice Taylor then wrote to the Bank in Boston, by Harnden's Express, and yesterday Mr. Benjamin Thompson, one of the directors of the Eagle Bank of Boston, arrived in the City and proceeded to the Upper Police Office. There he made affidavit that the Eagle Bank had been defrauded of $50,000 and upwards by Ralph Thompson & George F. Cook, and while the Director was in the private office of the Upper Police, Mr. George F. Cook, with a posse of lawyers, marched into the outer office, to see what he could do for his incarcerated partner.

Being pointed out he was arrested also and detained, and finally both Ralph Thompson and G. F. Cook were admitted to bail, each in $50,000. Mr. Drew, of the firm of Drew, Robinson & Co., becoming bail for their appearance before Justice Taylor on the 29th inst. there to surrender themselves for arrest on the warrant of the Executive of Massachusetts, for removal to Boston for trial.

FANNY ELSLER.—One of the most splendid lithographic prints we have ever seen has just been placed upon our table. It is a Portrait of Fanny Elsler, painted by ISMAN, and drawn on stone by Henry Ph. Heidemann; and we have certainly never seen any thing of the kind so perfect and so striking as a work of lithographic art. These more familiar with the original than ourselves pronounce it an excellent likeness; the plate is one of the largest size, being about forty inches by thirty. We believe that, both with regard to the beauty of the picture and the elegance with which it has been lithographed, it will compare favorably with the best works of the kind in the country. Subscriptions, at $5 per copy, will be received by J. E. Atwill, at 201 Broadway.

THE MORMONS.—The Warsaw (Ill.) Signal of the 24th ult. contains a notice of more hostilities between the Mormons and the citizens dwelling in their vicinity. It states that a number of the latter met together and gave formal notice to several families to quit a locality they had settled upon for the purpose of cutting timber, on peril of being removed by force. Another version of the story, however, says that no threats were used. A rumor was prevalent that the citizens of Iowa above Montrose had adopted the same course—threatening violence in case the Mormons would not remove. The Signal chronicles the arrival of more parties of this sect.

A German manufacturer of muffs, for caps, &c., in Boston, was examined and committed on Wednesday to answer a charge of committing a violent assault upon a young girl in his employ.

DARING ROBBERY.—The factory of Thomas Bottomly, in the Easterly part of Leicester, Mass., was broken open on the night of the 6th inst. and about six hundred yards of Broadcloth stolen and carried off.

Yesterday a locomotive was to be run over the whole line of railroad between Boston and Albany. On Wednesday next, the 15th, according to promise, the road will be opened for regular travel, 200 miles distance, to be done in some 10 or 12 hours.

The body of an abandoned female named Ann McAllister was found on Thursday in the Middlesex Canal at Boston. It is suspected that she was murdered, as a man was seen to follow her toward the canal from the Theatre on the previous night.

A brewery in Cleveland, owned by Messrs. Walden & Reeve, was burned on the 3d instant: it was not insured. The property of the occupants, Messrs. Blackwell, Lloyd & Co. was mostly saved, and insured for $1,400.

A boat with passengers from the wrecked Savannah has arrived at Charleston, S. C. The third boat has not yet been heard from, and it is not improbable that it is lost.

Charles Ayres of Bridgton, N. J., recently lost his life by falling from the bowsprit of the sloop Factor and striking his head against the bows of the vessel.

Mr. Abraham Coles was drowned at Birmingham, Ct. on the 4th inst. by the upsetting of a small sail-boat.

A severe hail storm visited Franklin, Tenn. on the 30th ult.

ELDER KNAPP.—The New-York papers state that the suit against Elder Knapp for slander has been withdrawn. Such is not the case.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.—The Danish barque Pretiosa, Capt. Reir, arrived at Philadelphia on Wednesday, in 45 days from Montevideo. We copy the following intelligence, received by her, from the United States Gazette:

No hostilities had lately taken place between the fleets of Buenos Ayres and Montevideo. It is stated that a report was current that Admiral Brown and landed at Buenos Ayres and retired to his country seat. Official notice is given to the residents of Montevideo that the two ports of Soriano and Payson, further in the interior, had been opened to foreign vessels, and every facility promised at the custom-houses. A large quantity of counterfeit coin of the smaller denominations, had lately been put in circulation.

The following important intelligence from Buenos Ayres is from the British Packet, of Oct. 9:

FROM BUENOS AYRES.—The anticipations to which the news we communicated last week from the interior led, have been fully borne out by the event. At 2 P. M. on Monday last, a salute from the Fort and a simultaneous merry peal from the church bells, confirmed the truth of a report in circulation some hours previous, viz: that the last remains of the forces of Lavalle and La Madrid had suffered a complete defeat, the former on the 19th ult. near Tucuman by Gen. Oribe, and the latter on the 24th, in the vicinity of Mendoza, by Gen. Pacheco. The official details of these important events, which may be said to have restored peace from the banks of La Plata to the foot of the Andes, have not yet been received.

In both cases it is stated that the vanquished left all their infantry and artillery, and when the conquerors left the field of battle near Mendoza, there seemed to be little chance of the escape of La Madrid, the difficulty of which was heightened by the fact of the passage of the Cordillera being closed.

The national squadron returned to their anchor on the 10th inst. The U. S. corvette Decatur was in the port of Buenos Ayres, on the same day.

The port was open to foreign commerce, but not yet for the import of flour.

DISASTERS AT SEA.—Capt. Jackson, of the ship Oceonee from New-Orleans, reports that on the 7th inst. a gale of wind blowing, saw a brig to leeward with a signal of distress flying. Bore away for her and found that she was too Helen, Chisholm, of Dresden, (Maine) from Wilmington, bound to Georgetown, and full of water. Hove to and took off part of the crew, but the sea being very high, could not get the boat to windward. Made sail on the ship and beat up to the wreck, from which they finally succeeded in taking off the rest. Meanwhile the brig fell on her beam ends, and it was with great difficulty the people hanging to the wreck were saved.

The Venezuelan schooner Paquete Junonia was wrecked on the evening of November 8, while on her way from Porto Cabello to Lagunayra. The Captain, Candido Fernandez, Mr. J. P. Levesque, his wife, child and servant, Rufino Olivera and servant of Porto Rico, and some others, in all ten, perished. Nine of the crew and one passenger saved themselves in the boats. It was supposed that the schooner was capsized in a squall. She had a considerable amount of specie on board.

Capt. Lawlin, of the Atlanta, arrived last evening from Sierra Leone, reports that on the 5th of October the whale-ship Selma was burned near the Cape de Verd Islands. The Captain and crew had arrived at Sierra Leone, and were to take passage in the British brig Wasp, bound to New-York.

RUTILITY.—A case was recently reported in Boston of a man who was carrying with him a companion at a chain in a miserable room without a bed to lie upon, or any of the common necessities of life. If that was not brutality we know not what to call it. Few know any thing of the miseries of life, and those that have hardened to their presence. There is no love, benevolence, and that is often wasted on those who have brought their troubles upon themselves. How happy are those whose lives are spent in doing good: their death-bed reflections must be blessed compared to the thoughts of the miser. How good now live to thank Dr. Sherman for health and life, that he celebrated Longevity have saved. If any Physician has a monument in the hearts of the People it is Dr. S., for the number of cures of coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, &c. by his medicines is incalculable. It is a great blessing to be cured of these diseases. Dr. S. is at 106 Nassau street, between Broadway and Broadway, 77 East Broadway, 221 Blockley, 227 Hudson street and Rushton and Aspinwall.

Mysterious.—A gentleman belonging to one of the most ancient and wealthy families of this city, who must be well known to numerous friends, having since the year 1815 up to recently, been kept nearly double, and for several years confined to his bed, has been restored to good health—he has regained his natural erect position—and has regained his carriage, and now walks with ease. We believe this is the gentleman's own description as near as possible, and there is no exaggeration in it. We would encourage his address, and doubt not his human feelings will excuse the liberty: so that any one doubting, may know these facts—though he requests his name may not appear in print. Among other similar instances, Mr. J. C. Knapp, 144 Broadway, has been restored, and will give personal assurances of the facts of his case. Both were rheumatism, and contracted colds and sneezes. How has this been done?

Answer—By the Indian Vegetable Elixir internally, and Herbs Nerve and Bone Linctus externally.

N. B.—The oath of Judge Fitch, of Columbus, S. C.—Transcribing this to Comstock & Co. may be seen on the wrapper, and where the Elixir is sold.

More than a hundred very extraordinary cases have now been cured, and we are authorized to state that the above will cure any case of Rheumatism, &c. and will carry out the warrant to its full extent, by retaining in case of failure.

The above to be found only at 71 Maiden lane.

NOT FOR A COLD ALONE.—It is not only for colds and coughs that Pease & Son's Horehound Candy is superior, but for many other complaints. It is a compound of various ingredients, and is good for the blood in all its various and can be used when other medicines would be too powerful. For children in such cases it is a most efficient article. In fact all complaints which arise from impurity of the system will be benefited by the use of it. Sold at 45 Division street.

Correspondence of The Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Thursday Eve, Dec. 9.

All is calmness, reflection and earnest inquiry with regard to the Financial and Currency project of the Administration. I find many Members favorably impressed with it, others whose prepossessions are adverse, and some who have not yet formed a decided opinion; but nearly all disposed to examine it thoroughly, consider it fairly, and finally do whatever the wishes and the true interests of the country shall seem to dictate. If there are any predisposed to condemn it because it comes from Mr. Tyler, I think they are few, at least among the Whigs.

I understand that at a meeting of the Whig Members held to-day it was resolved to give the lead on this subject to the House, and there to constitute a Select Committee on Currency and Finance, composed in good part of the more especial supporters of the President. These will take the suggestions of the President, with the details to be submitted by Mr. Secretary Forward, and embody them in the best bill that they can devise. In this shape the subject will come before Congress for decisive action.

I will not disguise my opinion that the success of the measure, unless the expression of the People and the Press in its favor is very decided, is very doubtful. The dead weight of about one hundred Loco-Focos in the House and twenty-two in the Senate is too heavy to be resisted by a measure which is not backed by any party as such, and must be sustained on its independent merits, if at all.

You will have seen that Col. Benton and the Globe are very harsh upon the "Fiscality." There are peculiar reasons for this. Col. B. now aspires to be NEXT President, and the Globe is in his favor. All the affected coyness of the Ball-poller, and his deference to Mr. Van Buren, were assumed for effect. You will have seen the nomination of Col. B. by the Legislature of his own State. The delicious tranquility of Kinderhook will not be invaded at the instigation of Western Loco-Focos.

The Report of the Secretary of the Treasury has not yet been transmitted to Congress. Those of the Secretary of the Navy and Postmaster-General are in the hands of the Printer, and will be ready in a day or two.

THURSDAY, DEC. 9, 1841.

In the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, to-day, Hon. JOSEPH R. INGERSOLL, Representative elect from Pennsylvania, vice John Sergeant, resigned, appeared, was qualified, and took his seat.

Mr. FILLMORE made an unsuccessful attempt to offer a resolution referring to the regular Standing Committee, the appropriate parts of the President's Message, and to Select Committees, the subjects of the Sixth Census and Apportionment of Representatives, of the Currency, Exchanges and a Fiscal Agent, and of the Smithsonian Legacy.

Mr. LAWRENCE of Pa. announced to the House the death of a respected colleague, Judge BLACK, late a representative from the District formerly represented by the late Hon. Charles Ogile. He died suddenly at his residence on the 5th Nov. ult. Mr. L. pronounced an animated and thrilling eulogium on the character, public and private, of the deceased, who had been the companion of his boyish days, the associate of his riper years, and an intimate and valued friend. He concluded by offering the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we have heard with deep regret the announcement of the death of the Hon. HENRY BLACK, late a Member of this House from Pennsylvania, and that they testify their respect for the memory of the deceased by wearing crape on their arms for thirty days.

The House then, on motion of Mr. LAWRENCE, from respect to the memory of the deceased, adjourned.

In the SENATE, on motion of Mr. WRIGHT, the rule requiring the election of the Committees by the Senate, was suspended, and their appointment given to the President.

The Senate then adjourned to Monday.

ARGES.

The President has officially recognised William Vogel as Consul of the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, for the part of New-Orleans.

LASTEST FROM YUCATAN.—By the arrival of the Texas schooner of war San Antonio, Capt. Seeger, from Sisal, last night, we have received advices up to the 21st instant.

The State of Yucatan continues tranquil and prosperous. Congress had been prorogued for 30 days, in consequence of having much unfinished business of importance to dispose of, the regular term having expired.

The Independence Bill, referred to a Committee of the Senate, had not yet been reported on, but was to have been submitted on the 24th instant, and no doubt was entertained at Merida but that the Committee would report favorably, and that it would pass unanimously in the Senate, as it had previously in the House.

Advices had been received from Mexico, announcing the appointment of two Commissioners, empowered by Santa Anna to treat with the Government of Yucatan for the reunion of that State with the Mexican Confederacy, but having subsequently learned that a bill declaring that State independent had passed the House, they had asked fresh instructions, the result of which was, that their mission was suspended, and their return ordered to the capital.

Accounts from Tabasco are unfavorable, that Government having received Commissioners from Santa Anna, and entered into a treaty by which trade had been again opened with Vera Cruz. Gen. Semtman had, in consequence, demanded his passports, but various petitions had been sent to the Government from the Ayuntamientos and Corporations begging that passports might not be granted him, as his services and presence were absolutely necessary for the safety and peace of the country. Gen. Anya was at Merida, and was there looked upon with contempt by the Government and people. [N. O. Picayune, 27th ult.]

TRIPROPHICUS.—Purchasers, beware of a vile imitation of "Clough's Triphrochic," made by an unprincipled fellow, lately discharged from his employment. The great celebrity of this Compound, for the cure of colds, coughs, gray hair, scurf, dandruff, &c. has prompted him to have show bills and bottle labels similar to the original, and thus give all the outward appearance of the genuine Triphrochic. The preparation itself is a vile compound, and bears no resemblance to the genuine, except its being liquid. But caution all purchasers to observe that the genuine article has the proprietor's name, "Vair Clough's Triphrochic," written on the outside wrapper, to imitate which is felony, and the work of each bottle is sealed in red wax with the impression "Clough's Triphrochic, New York." All others are counterfeit.

BOWERY AMPHITHEATRE.—The splendid entertainments announced for Diamond's Benefit on Thursday night drew an overflowing house, and several hundred persons were disappointed in obtaining seats. The same entertainments are repeated, for the first time, to-night.

COVERLY'S BALM OF LIFE.—Every day brings along with it additional testimony to the efficacy of this medicine in the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis or Sore Throat, Consumption, &c. Those who have long suffered with either of the above diseases and have been trying other medicines in vain, would do well to call at either of Mr. Coverly's offices, 156 Fulton st. or 131 Nassau st.

No QUACKERY, but a pleasant and speedy cure for coughs, sore throat, loss of voice, and all diseases arising from cold; prepared only by the proprietor, and known as Home's Horehound Candy. Beware of all similar articles, compounded of vile and poisonous drugs. To be had, wholesale and retail, at 432 Broadway, corner of Howard street.

Catalogues are now ready of the extensive Sale of Old English Books recently imported, to be closed with reserve, by Royal Gurley, at the New-York Loan Room 179 Broadway, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 14th, 15th and 16th inst. The collection consists of a very great variety of valuable and curious books, embracing many original editions of standard authors, and also a copy of Napoleon's Great Work on Egypt, in 24 volumes. d11 4c

Universalism.—A Discourse will be delivered to-morrow (Sunday) Morning, in the Orchard street Church from the following text: "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" Preaching what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? "Preach to the living, and in the evening, at 7 o'clock, will be preached a Discourse in favor of the doctrine of the 'Restoration of all things.' Church in Orchard-street, near Broome. d11 4c

The Young Choir. or School Singing Book original and selected, by Wm. B. Bradbury, and C. V. Sanders. The attention of Teachers is particularly requested to the following notices, just received by the publishers.

New-York, October 25, 1841.

Messrs. DAYTON & SEXTON—Gentlemen—I have examined your valuable little musical publication, "The Young Choir," and feel gratified to be able to express my unqualified approbation of the same. It is just the thing wanted for juvenile classes; and I hope it may be widely and extensively patronized.

S. R. POND, I am respectfully yours, Secretary of the N. Y. Sacred Music Society.

Messrs. DAYTON & SEXTON—I have received the copy of "The Young Choir," by W. B. Bradbury and C. V. Sanders, and I have examined it thoroughly and with great pleasure. It is a most charming and simple, yet grand, and in a musical work. The arrangement is well designed and executed, and I know of no work of the kind better calculated to do good. The work also contains enough of "Elements of music," to answer all purposes for the young.

I do not doubt that it will afford satisfaction to schools for children and youth, and I hope it will obtain a general use.

C. P. SMITH, Mayor of Brooklyn.

October 20, 1841.

D. & S. also publish a New Collection of Instrumental Music, consisting of Solos, Duets and Trios, for the Flute, Violin and Violoncello, from the works of Beethoven, Mozart, Haydn, P. Belli, Walsh, Strauss, and other eminent composers; to which are added brief instructions for each instrument.

Also in press—"The Northern Harp," consisting of original, sacred, and moral songs, adapted to the most popular melodies for the Piano-forte and Guitar. By Mrs. Mary S. B. Dana, author of "The Southern Harp." DAYTON & SEXTON, 91 Nassau street, corner FULTON. d11 4c
